Hazardous Waste Issues Pertaining To An Incinerator In East Liverpool Ohio:

Hazardous Waste DIANE Publishing Company,1995-04-01 Examines issues concerning the operational control and ownership of WTI and whether its hazardous waste permit is valid whether EPA in some cases the state of Ohio have complied with regulations for approving and modifying the WTI permits and EPA s ability to ensure that human health and the environment are protected during the operation of the incinerator Hazardous Waste United States. General Accounting Office,1994 Hazardous Waste United States Accounting Office (GAO),2018-04-26 RCED 94 101 Hazardous Waste Issues Pertaining to an Incinerator in East Liverpool Ohio Hazardous Waste U. S. Government Accountability Office (,2013-06 Pursuant to a congressional request GAO reviewed 1 issues concerning the operational control and ownership of a hazardous waste incinerator in East Liverpool Ohio 2 whether the Environmental Protection Agency EPA and Ohio have complied with regulations for approving and modifying incinerator permits and 3 EPA ability to ensure that human health and the environment are protected during the operation of the incinerator GAO found that 1 several of the companies that made up the original partnership have changed as well as the operational responsibility for the facility 2 although the corporate partners have changed several times and all of the partners are now owned by the same corporation the company s ownership has not changed 3 EPA has generally followed regulatory requirements in permitting the incinerator 4 EPA has not required the company to provide an engineering analysis to show that its proposed flood protection devices would be able to withstand a 100 year flood 5 EPA has not conducted an alternative site analysis as required by a federal executive order on floodplain development 6 EPA and the public could benefit from increased public participation in the permitting process 7 EPA has established performance standards that the incinerator must meet when burning hazardous wastes and has required the facility to conduct a test to determine whether the incinerator could meet those standards before beginning full scale operations and 8 because of community concerns EPA has gone beyond program requirements and is conducting a two phase health risk assessment Hazardous Waste United States. Environmental Protection Agency,1995 Environmental Administrative Decisions United States. Environmental Protection Agency,1994 Understanding Risk National Research Council,Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education,Board on Environmental Change and Society,Committee on Risk Characterization,1996-06-05 Understanding Risk addresses a central dilemma of risk decisionmaking in a democracy detailed scientific and technical information is essential for making decisions but the people who make and live with those decisions are not scientists The key task of risk characterization is to provide needed and appropriate information to decisionmakers and the public This important new volume illustrates that making risks understandable to the public involves much more than translating scientific knowledge The volume also draws conclusions about what society should expect from risk characterization and offers clear guidelines and principles for informing the wide variety of risk decisions that face our increasingly technological society Frames fundamental questions about what risk characterization means Reviews traditional definitions and explores new conceptual and practical approaches Explores how risk characterization should inform decisionmakers and the public Looks at risk characterization in the context of the entire decisionmaking process Understanding Risk discusses how risk characterization has fallen short in many recent controversial decisions Throughout the text examples and case studies such as planning for the long term ecological health of the Everglades or deciding on the operation of a waste incinerator bring key concepts to life Understanding Risk will be important to anyone involved in risk issues federal state and local policymakers and regulators risk managers scientists industrialists researchers and concerned individuals
