Health And Air Quality Evaluating The Effects Of Policy:

Health and Air Quality Philip E. Graves, Ronald J. Krumm, 1981 Energy Abstracts for Policy Analysis, 1986-07

Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1982 First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965-70

National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), 1982 How Much Is Clean Air

Worth? Ari Rabl, Joseph V. Spadaro, Mike Holland, 2014-07-10 How Much Is Clean Air Worth offers readers a comprehensive overview of the core methodologies and tools used to quantify the impacts and damage costs of pollution. The book begins by reviewing the tools used for environmental assessments and shows that a rational approach requires an impact pathway analysis (IPA) for each of the possible impacts of a pollutant, i.e. an analysis of the chain: emission, dispersion, exposure, response, functions, monetary valuation. The IPA methodology is explained in full and illustrated with worked examples and difficulties are discussed and uncertainties analysed. In addition to detailed computer models, a very simple model, the Uniform World Model, is presented, enabling readers to make estimates for cases where no results are available. Published results for electricity, waste treatment and transport are reviewed with a thorough discussion of policy implications. This book will appeal to a broad mix of academics, graduate students and practitioners in government and industry working on cost-benefit analysis, environmental impact analysis and environmental policy. The Cost of Air Pollution: Health Impacts of Road Transport OECD, 2014-05-21. This study reports on the economic cost of the health impacts of air pollution from road transport on a global scale but with special reference to China, India and the OECD countries. Workshop on Review and Assessment of European Air Pollution Policies A (NA), 2005. The development of European policies on air pollution prevention is currently in an intensive phase. The European Commission Clean Air for Europe (CAFE) programme is preparing an air pollution strategy and the Convention on Long-range Air Pollution may start a review of the Gothenburg Protocol during 2005. On the 25th-27th of October 2004 a workshop on review and assessment of the scientific basis and tools employed in this policy work was held to provide guidance to the policy development. Future needs of scientific support in a longer perspective were also discussed. A large part of the workshop was focussed on the role of airborne particles. Human health effects caused by exposure to airborne particles have received increasing attention in recent years and concerns of health effects are today the main driving force for air pollution prevention and research. In addition to this, new concepts for describing effects of acidification and ozone are being introduced, providing more accurate and relevant descriptions of ecosystem effects to changes in air pollution levels. The needs for considering air pollution on a hemispheric scale were also highlighted. This workshop was organised by the ASTA programme, the Swedish research programme on air pollution in co-operation with the Nordic Council of Ministers, the EU CAFE programme and CLRTAP. Murray & Nadel's Textbook of Respiratory Medicine E-Book Robert J. Impact Evaluation of Transport Interventions David A. Raitzer, Nina Blöndal, Jasmin Sibal, 2019-04-01 This publication aims to support impact evaluation in the transport sector by assessing what has been produced against what might be possible It reviews 91 impact evaluations of transport interventions in developing countries summarizes findings on outcomes identifies evidence gaps and proposes ways forward Most of the studies reviewed find significant effects on at least one of the outcomes investigated However impact evaluation has given relatively little coverage to major areas of investment such as urban and sustainable transportation transport corridors and efficiency enhancing measures New methods and increasing openness of geospatial data provide scope to generate more innovative impact studies

Technical Challenges of Multipollutant Air Quality Management George M. Hidy, Jeffrey R. Brook, Kenneth L. Demerjian, Luisa T. Molina, William T. Pennell, Richard D. Scheffe, 2011-07-30 Recent critiques of air quality management approaches currently employed in developed and many developing countries have suggested that efficiencies could be achieved if air quality management practices shifted from pollutant by pollutant approaches to a comprehensive multipollutant approach in which emission reduction decisions are based on relative risk and evaluated on their effectiveness in meeting environmental and health goals This book assesses our technical readiness to undertake such an approach and it outlines the technical developments that will be needed to achieve a risk based approach air quality management that includes means for measuring the effectiveness of management decisions

Piekarska ,Ghulam Mujtaba Kayani,Aneta Iwona Oniszczyk-Jastrzabek ,Ernest Czermanski,2024-05-16 According to the World Health Organization air pollution is one of the most important environmental risk to health influencing the burden of disease such as stroke heart disease lung cancer but also chronic and acute respiratory diseases including bronchial asthma For years WHO has also been alarming about the enormous number of premature deaths that are attributed each year to exposure to air pollution It is estimated that air pollution is responsible for over 7 million human lives of which over 4 million are attributed to the exposure to ambient outdoor air pollutants Therefore it is a leading factor determining the global scale of morbidity and mortality not only due to serious diseases of the cardiovascular and respiratory systems or neoplastic diseases but also significantly affects the reduced quality of life usually associated with disability caused by chronic disease

Assessment of Population Health Risks of Policies Gabriel Guli Odile Mekel Bal zs d m and Liliana Cori editors Public health continues to evolve as professionals work not only to prevent disease and promote well being but also to reduce health disparities and protect the environment To a greater extent policy is intimately linked to this process a reality that is gaining traction in the public health sector With this understanding in mind Assessment of Population Health Risks of Policies introduces an international set of guidelines Risk Assessment from Policies to Impact Dimension RAPID In keeping with widely recognized models of public health operations this innovative methodology factors in social environmental and economic health determinants to predict adverse outcomes to populations arising from large scale policy decisions Case studies from across the European Union illustrate both the intricacies of risk quantification and other components of assessment and possible relationships between policy and health outcomes And contributors suggest how international health standards may be implemented despite significant cultural and political differences among nations Included in the coverage Public health policy analysis risk assessment and impact assessment Risk assessment impact assessment and evaluation Top down versus bottom up policy risk assessment Quantification of health risks Application of RAPID guidance on an international policy Use of policy risk assessment results in political decision making Assessment of Population Health Risks of Policies is an essential and proactive read for researchers and practitioners in impact assessment public policy public health and epidemiology

Maximizing Local Government Impact on Community Health Initiatives Karolina Sobczyk,Marlena Robakowska,2025-09-17 Local government units play a pivotal role in shaping and enhancing public health a common societal good that requires continuous strengthening The influence of local governments extends beyond mere statistics of morbidity and mortality it encompasses the reduction of health adverse behaviors that undermine health security and social cohesion Despite the recognized importance of local government involvement in health initiatives there remains a significant gap in understanding the full extent of their impact and the best practices for maximizing their effectiveness Recent studies have highlighted the potential of local governments to drive health improvements through targeted programs such as vaccination campaigns school based health initiatives and policies affecting transportation consumption and access to health promoting resources However there is a pressing need for more comprehensive research to mobilize local governments towards proactive health interventions and to identify strategies that can be effectively implemented at the community level This research topic aims to explore the multifaceted benefits of local government activities in influencing population health By examining the links between local government actions and health outcomes this research seeks to uncover new insights into how local authorities can effectively contribute to public health The goal is to stimulate scholarly discourse and provide evidence based recommendations that can guide local governments businesses researchers and individuals in their efforts to enhance community health capacity

Decarbonising The World's Economy: Assessing The Feasibility Of Policies To Reduce Greenhouse Gas Emissions

Terry Barker,Douglas Crawford-brown,2014-11-05 Too often amongst policy makers and thought leaders an assumption is made that we must make a choice between tackling climate change and having a strong economy tackling climate change and allowing poorer nations to develop tackling climate change and having a secure energy system However a decade of advanced modelling tested against historical data has provided wide evidence that well chosen policies can be implemented that avoid these apparent either or choices This highly interdisciplinary book provides an overview of potential pathways for the decarbonisation of the global economy By examining the entire global economy we show policy makers and thought leaders that greatly reducing the risks of climate change can be consistent with energy security economic development in poor nations and vibrant economies in already developed nations Advanced models of the relationships between the economy energy and climate change pioneered at the Cambridge Centre for Climate Change Mitigation Research 4CMR over the past decade provides a sound evidence base for decisions This book examines not only the impacts of policies but also the feasibility of bringing them forward and the ways in which energy climate and economic policies can and must be joined up if climate energy and economic goals are to be met globally Economists physicists engineers policy analysts environmental scientists climate scientists political analysts lawyers and computational scientists are brought together for the first time to produce analyses that make up a unique approach to a global problem that must be addressed sooner rather than later
