International Medical and Surgical Survey ,1922 Teaching the Eighteenth Century Now Kate Parker,Miriam L. Wallace,2023-12-15 In this timely collection teacher scholars of the long eighteenth century a Eurocentric time frame from about 1680 to 1832 consider what teaching means in this historical moment one of attacks on education a global contagion and a reckoning with centuries of trauma experienced by Black Indigenous and immigrant peoples Taking up this challenge each essay highlights the intellectual labor of the classroom linking textual and cultural materials that fascinate us as researchers with pedagogical approaches that engage contemporary students Some essays offer practical models for teaching through editing sensory experience dialogue or collaborative projects Others reframe familiar texts and topics through contemporary approaches such as the health humanities disability studies and decolonial teaching Throughout authors reflect on what it is that we do when we teach how our pedagogies can be more meaningful more impactful and more relevant Published by Bucknell University Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press Cumulated Index Medicus ,1995 Teaching Qualitative Research Rosalind E. Hurworth,2008-01-01 Over the past two decades there has been a plethora of book for students about how to tackle Qualitative Research QR but absolutely nothing on how to teach it This book attempts to redress the imbalance by presenting a history of what is known about QR teaching as well as to bring alive current QR teaching and learning through a set of Australian and British case studies Courses visited were located within a variety of disciplines including Education Sociology Anthropology Nursing Psychology Communications and Evaluation were taught by both experienced and inexperienced lecturers were either presented alone or in pairs took place in a range of institutions lasted from seven weeks to a year and involved from 15 to over 100 students It emerged however that no matter what the context several common issues were raised such as Should you teach theory practice or both How do you determine a curriculum for a QR course What is the best way to manage student projects How should students of QR be assessed In what ways can the constraints of University structures be confronted and How can lecturer deficiencies in training and experience be overcome To answer such questions Professor Hurworth draws deftly from personal observations and rich conversations with both lecturers and students from all the courses described As a result many practical ideas for moving the teaching and learning of QR forward are suggested The Use of Libraries by Nursing Researchers Elaine Blair,Maurice Wakeham,1995 Bullying in Schools Peter K. Smith,Debra Pepler,Ken Rigby,2004-10-21 Bullying in Schools is the first comparative account of the major intervention projects against school bullying that have been carried out by educationalists and researchers since the 1980s across Europe North America and Australasia Working on the principle that we can learn from both successes and failures this book examines the processes as well as the outcomes and critically assesses the likely reasons for success or failure With contributions from leading researchers in the field Bullying in Schools is an important addition to the current debate on tackling school bullying

Publication Bias in Meta-Analysis Hannah R. Rothstein, Alexander J. Sutton, Michael Borenstein, 2006-02-03 Publication bias is the tendency to decide to publish a study based on the results of the study rather than on the basis of its theoretical or methodological quality It can arise from selective publication of favorable results or of statistically significant results This threatens the validity of conclusions drawn from reviews of published scientific research Meta analysis is now used in numerous scientific disciplines summarizing quantitative evidence from multiple studies If the literature being synthesised has been affected by publication bias this in turn biases the meta analytic results potentially producing overstated conclusions Publication Bias in Meta Analysis examines the different types of publication bias and presents the methods for estimating and reducing publication bias or eliminating it altogether Written by leading experts adopting a practical and multidisciplinary approach Provides comprehensive coverage of the topic including Different types of publication bias Mechanisms that may induce them Empirical evidence for their existence Statistical methods to address them Ways in which they can be avoided Features worked examples and common data sets throughout Explains and compares all available software used for analysing and reducing publication bias Accompanied by a website featuring software data sets and further material Publication Bias in Meta Analysis adopts an interdisciplinary approach and will make an excellent reference volume for any researchers and graduate students who conduct systematic reviews or meta analyses University and medical libraries as well as pharmaceutical companies and government regulatory agencies will also find this invaluable

Colleges of Agriculture at the Land Grant Universities National Research Council, Board on Agriculture, Committee on the Future of the Colleges of Agriculture in the Land Grant University System, 1996-08-19 Since their inception in 1862 the U S land grant colleges have evolved to become the training ground for the nation's and the world's agriculturists In this book the committee examines the future of the colleges of agriculture in light of changing national priorities for the agricultural food and natural resource system The effects of federal funding constraints also are examined as are opportunities for growth presented by developments in science The committee's preceding volume Colleges of Agriculture at the Land Grant Universities A Profile is a compilation of the data that helped formulate the specific questions to be addressed Colleges of Agriculture at the Land Grant Universities Public Service and Public Policy is the deliberative report rating conclusions and recommendations for institutional innovation and public policy It addresses these and other questions What education mission should colleges of agriculture adopt and what strategies should they use in light of significant changes in the agricultural complex Research in agriculture is expected to respond to consumer demands environmental concerns world population growth and increasing pressure on agricultural lands Is the century old structure of land grant university based research up to the task What is the role of extension in light of today s smaller farming communities and larger farming conglomerates This volume is the culmination of a landmark evaluation of land grant colleges of agriculture an American institution This document will be of value to policymakers administrators and others involved in agricultural science and education Page's Ohio Revised Code Annotated Ohio,1953 Statistical Reference Index ,1994 Job Analysis Applied to the Teaching of Vocational Agriculture Victor Chauncey Gaines,1922 Competitive Business Strategy for Teaching Hospitals James Langabeer,John Napiewocki,2000-08-30 Without new ways to think and manage itself strategically academic healthcare faces terminal deterioration Heightened competition and changing dynamics have brought turbulence to teaching hospitals and the main impact has been financial Langabeer and Napiewocki give health care executives the tools and concepts of strategic management they need and ways to strengthen analytic skills all based on up to date empirical research cast in language they can grasp and relate to and specially tailored to help teaching hospital administrators cope successfully with today s marketplace challenges Board members trustees and others with decision and policy making responsibilities will also find the book essential as well as their teaching colleagues and students on their way up in the hospital industry The authors maintain that if nonprofit teaching hospitals are to compete successfully with private for profit hospital chains not only must they learn the terrain of the playing fields they must also learn how the game itself is played Langabeer and Napiewocki offer that knowledge and in doing so have written the first book of its kind to address comprehensively the entire realm of strategic management aimed clearly at teaching hospitals and major academic medical centers With findings from primary empirical research into a large sample of teaching hospitals and focusing on the statistical relationships to economic performance they provide crucial insights into why certain hospitals are more effective than others Their book will also help healthcare executives relate strategy research on industrial organizations to their own teaching hospital environments In doing so their book fills a void in the literature on business strategy that for too long has caused consternation among healthcare administrators and aspirants alike
