

Teaching Statements for Tenure and Promotion Cases: Suggestions for Faculty, Chairs, and Directors

The LSA Executive Committee looks closely at the teaching record of each candidate for tenure and/or promotion. Members examine and comment upon the individual E&E evaluations, the E&E comparisons made by the department, the syllabi, and the TRP or JTP report. Executive Committee members often use the candidate's teaching statement to frame their discussion of the teaching aspect of a tenure and promotion case, so the statement serves an important function and requires care and attention. The guidelines below are broad, not definitive. They are meant to help departmental chairs and program directors in the mentoring discussions that take place prior to the preparation of the promotion materials.

College guidelines set a maximum of five pages for the teaching statement. Most teaching statements are in the range of four to five pages. In general, the Executive Committee has found that statements of one or two pages are simply not of sufficient length. The statement needs to feature more than simply a prose recounting of a list of courses taught. A typically good statement would include most of the following elements:

- A statement of teaching philosophy.
- A statement outlining strategic goals.
- A statement discussing classroom techniques and tactics, paying attention to both undergraduate and graduate teaching.
- A discussion of graduate and undergraduate mentoring, research lab supervision, UROP/SROP and REU students, and completed Ph.D. students
- A serious engagement with the trajectory of the E&E evaluations, and honest self-reflection on classes that have produced lower scores. Faculty should avoid the formulaic and the facile.
- A statement discussing the candidate's contributions to the curriculum, in relation to both the department or program and the College itself.
- A sense of future ideas or plans for course development, curricular contribution, or pedagogical experimentation or innovation.

Re-imagining Professional Experience in Initial Teacher Education Ange Fitzgerald, Graham Parr, Judy Williams, 2018-07-05 This book takes a fresh look at professional experience in initial teacher education in Australia Using collaborative narrative methodologies the authors critically explore the ways in which one faculty of education engages with schools industry the teaching profession and government policy to deliver an innovative professional experience program It includes chapters offering new perspectives on more traditional practicums in schools as well as those reporting on exciting partnership initiatives where pre service teachers teacher educators and practitioners work together to teach and learn in new and mutually beneficial ways There is a particular focus on the professional learning of all stakeholders from across the professional experience program The book allows readers to gain a new understanding of the experiences and learning opportunities available to all stakeholders when a professional experience program makes a priority of boundary work relational work and identity work With the critical and creative power of narrative to convey what other research methodologies cannot it shows how one institution has developed a variety of innovative approaches and structures in response to on going debates on quality in teacher education the role of educational partnerships in teacher preparation and the personal and professional insights gained from such opportunities Navigating the Common Good in Teacher Education Policy Nikola Hobbel, Barbara L. Bales, 2018-05-11 Navigating the Common Good in Teacher Education Policy examines the changing relationships between the state and the common or public good Using teacher education policy as the frame of analysis the authors examine history cultural context and lived experiences in 12 countries and the European Union to explicate which notions of justice social inclusion and exclusion and citizenship emerge By situating teacher education policy within a larger philosophical framework regarding the relationship between the state and conceptions of the common good this book analyzes the ideological and political desires of the state how the state understands the common good the future of national identity and to what end schooling is imagined Research in Education ,1974 Resources in Education ,2000-10 Internationalization of Teacher Education Reyes L. Quezada, 2014-07-16 This book proposes to excite readers to engage in conversations on how Schools and Colleges of Education can internationalize teacher education programs so that graduates have global teaching experiences that teacher education curricula include global perspectives and that there are opportunities to have faculty think and teach from a global perspective The contributions in this book are by authors who have the knowledge and expertise in international teacher education to answer many questions regarding the development of a 21st century competent global teaching force They describe their experiences programs and support for the goal of continuing to internationalize Schools and Colleges of Education The book is designed to be interactive readers are encouraged to engage themselves in the conversation as the editor invites them to e mail any of the authors to discuss questions posed Questions addressed in this issue include defining internationalization global teacher competency hearing voices from the field as graduates and faculty share how internationalization has had an impact on teaching program development and professional and personal development This book was originally published as a special issue of Teaching Education Teacher Preparation for Linguistically Diverse Classrooms Tamara Lucas, 2010-09-13 Teacher educators today need knowledge and practical ideas about how to prepare all pre service and in service teachers not just bilingual or ESL specialists to teach the growing number of students in K 12 classrooms in the United States who speak native languages other than English This book is at the forefront in focusing exclusively on the preparation of mainstream classroom teachers for this population of students Part one provides the conceptual and contextual framework for the book including a comprehensive discussion of relevant demographic trends and an analysis of national and state policies Part two presents examples of initiatives in different institutional and geographic settings highlighting three essential elements of teacher preparation curriculum content program design and program coherence Meeting a pressing need among teacher educators left to figure out largely by trial and error how best to prepare non specialist classroom teachers to work with ELLs this book both contributes to the research base and provides practical information to help readers envision possibilities they can apply in their own settings

Teacher Education Robyn Brandenburg, Sharon McDonough, Jenene Burke, Simone White, 2016-06-15 This book an inaugural publication from the Australian Teacher Education Association ATEA Teacher Education Innovation Intervention and Impact is both a product of and seeks to contribute to the changing global and political times in teacher education research This book marks an historically significant shift in the collective work and outreach of the Australian Teacher Education Association ATEA as it endeavours to become an even more active contributor to a research rich foundation for initial teacher education and to a research informed teaching profession The book showcases teacher education research and scholarship from a wide range of institutional collaborations across Australia Studies highlight the multiple ways in which teacher education researchers are engaging with students teachers schools and communities to best prepare future teachers It informs both teacher education policy and practice and is a must read for those engaged in the education community Above all it marks a shift for teacher educators to build a research rich teaching profession

Implementing the National Dance Education Standards National Dance Association, 2010 Having a set of standards that pertain to a well rounded curriculum is critical But standards alone do not ensure a good curriculum That is where Implementing the National Dance Education Standards comes in The tools in this book will help you apply those standards as you motivate students through engaging experiences that make dance education come alive for your students The standards in this book are an outcomes based version of the original seven standards created by the National Dance Association in 1994 The updated standards are also more action oriented and the tools that the many experienced contributors provide will help you to more easily implement the standards The chapters guide you in using new benchmarks to reflect desired student outcomes at grades 2 5 8 and 12 you can also use these benchmarks as a framework for developing state standards and local curricula In addition Implementing the National Dance Education Standards offers 32 ready to use learning experiences to incorporate in your lesson and unit planning tables of learners developmental characteristics for four grade levels based on learner domains psychomotor cognitive and affective along with their implications for your teaching and a three step standards based assessment cycle This resource also contains a CD ROM with the updated standards new benchmarks developmental characteristics and a blank template for planning of learning experiences The CD ROM contains the 32 sample learning experiences and assessment suggestions You can print these standards benchmarks sample plans and other materials as you need them so you don't always need to tote the book around with you as you plan and teach The book covers all you need to know in order to implement the standards Besides the revised standards and the new benchmarks themselves you'll learn about the relationship between learners developmental characteristics and the benchmarks and you'll explore the impact that various teaching and curriculum environments have on learning You ll also delve into how to design plan and implement a standards based dance curriculum how to assess students progress and how to make technology choices that strengthen the curriculum and challenge students learning processes Each chapter includes overviews and summaries to help you focus on the key points A glossary defines dance and educational terms and references provide additional sources of information for you to consider With its wealth of practical tools Implementing the National Dance Education Standards will help you stay on the cutting edge as you develop a comprehensive standards based dance curriculum one that develops the whole child engages students in developmentally appropriate learning experiences and makes dance fun and exciting for every student Assessment for Learning Stephen Chappuis,2004 Helps administrators gain a clear vision of what excellence in assessment looks like and what it takes to achieve that vision The specific competencies leaders need to support assessment FOR learning are identified with activities and resources to help them learn and apply the skills Written for use by individuals or group study Publisher s website Professionalism in Post-Compulsory Education and Training Jonathan Tummons,2020-05-18 What does professionalism mean for teachers and trainers in further education colleges or adult education centres Over the last twenty years ideas about professionalism and professional identity within the post compulsory sector have been shaped and reshaped by successive policies standards and professional bodies Yet these ideas themselves remain controversial and continue to be the focus of debate as well as research This book gathers together a series of articles published over the last ten years providing critical and research based perspectives on professionalism within post compulsory education and training The twelve chapters that are presented here explore issues such as professional standards and continuing professional development and their impact on current definitions and frameworks of professionalism as well as the policies that have shaped these processes These are issues that are of relevance and importance not only to practitioners and researchers in the post compulsory sector but to anyone who is concerned with contemporary debates about what it means to be a professional in education and training The chapters in this book were originally published as articles in Research in Post Compulsory Education Innovation and Accountability in Teacher Education Claire Wyatt-Smith,Lenore Adie,2018-10-24 This is the foundational book for the new series Teacher Education Learning Innovation and Accountability The book canvasses research practice and policy perspectives in teacher education across diverse geographic social and political contexts It explores the lifespan of teacher development from initial preparation through to graduate classroom practice as it occurs in an intensifying culture of standards and regulation The characterization of initial teacher education ITE in a crucible of change permeates throughout the book The chapters open up new ways of thinking about innovation and accountability in ITE and the professionalization of teaching exploring fundamental questions such as Who are the actors in teacher preparation and how do they interact How can we learn about the quality of teacher education Where can we hear the voices of teacher educators and preservice teachers as well as school based teacher educators What are the new and emerging roles of others in teacher education who have not been involved previously including employing authorities p 22 While the book provides responses to these and other provocative questions it also offers new insights into innovative teacher education from a wide range of policy and practice contexts Language, Culture, and Community in Teacher Education Maria Estela Brisk, 2013-09-13 Published by Routledge for the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education This volume addresses the pressing reality in teacher education that all teachers need to be prepared to work effectively with linguistically and culturally diverse student populations Every classroom in the country is already or will soon be deeply affected by the changing demographics of America s students Marilyn Cochran Smith s Foreword and Donaldo Macedo s Introductory Essay set the context with respect to teacher education and student demographics followed by a series of chapters presented in three sections knowledge practice and policy The literature on language education has typically been discussed in relation to preparing ESL or bilingual teachers Typically needs of culturally and linguistically diverse students including immigrants refugees language minority populations African Americans and deaf students have been addressed separately This volume emphasizes that these children have both common educational needs and needs that are culturally and linguistically specific It is directed to the preparation of ALL teachers who work with culturally and linguistically diverse students It not only focuses on how teachers need to change but how faculty and curriculum need to be transformed and how to better train teacher education candidates to understand and work efficaciously with the communities in which culturally and linguistically diverse students tend to be predominant The American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education AACTE is a national voluntary association of higher education institutions and related organizations Our mission is to promote the learning of all PK 12 students through high quality evidence based preparation and continuing education for all school personnel For more information on our publications visit our website at www.aacte.org Abstracts of Research and Related Materials in Vocational and Technical Education ,1969 This publication provides combined cumulative indexes to Abstracts of instructional materials in vocational and technical education AIM and Abstracts of research and related materials in vocational and technical education ARM Journal of the House of Representatives of the United States United States.
