Guido Mocafico Guido Mocafico, Cecilia Dean, Stephen Gan, James Kaliardos, 2008      Serpens Guido Mocafico, 2008
What animal has inspired as much dread as many legends indeed as much revulsion and terror as the snake Demon divinity sacred animal protector ancestor the nature and importance of this creatures role has changed throughout history Among the 2 700 known species few are dangerous let alone lethal to humans but prejudices run deep These images look at this family of animals with a mysterious biology and of which new species are still being discovered      Marion de Beaupré

Presents Guido Mocafico Guido Mocafico, 2000      Movement Guido Mocafico, Patrick Remy, Antoine Simonin, 2008 Time is naturally divided by astronomical phenomena such as the seasons or day and night which repeat themselves in a cyclical fashion To divide Time into finer fractions artificial means such as sundials which mark the movement of the shadows projected by the sun or clepsydra based on water flow were invented Ever since 1657 when the first watch was created we use oscillatory movements of a mechanical system to measure time The photographer Guido Mocafico has explored these movements He chose more complex and rarer mechanisms a whole new world of know how controlled by Master Watchmakers without any trace of electronics A plunge into an unknown world comparable to the exploration of living being

Guido Mocafico Marion de Beaupré, Patrick Rémy (critique d'art.), Galerie 213 (Paris), 2000      Stilleven Guido Mocafico, 2013 Stilleven is Guido Mocafico s interpretation of the great Dutch and German still life paintings of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries By painstakingly reconstructing banquet and floral scenes as well as vanitas still lifes by artists such as Floris van Dijck and Pieter Claesz Mocafico not only duplicates these paintings but brings them back to life Using a large format analogue camera with color transparencies Mocafico creates brilliant images with the highest degree of verisimilitude Mocafico s triumph however is not only recreating the appearance of things but his restaging of the devout atmosphere of these paintings Limited edition of 300 copies signed and numbered by the artist      Guido Mocafico:

Leopold & Rudolf Blaschka Guido Mocafico, 2018-05-22 It has long been Guido Mocafico s dream to photograph the master piece glass models of marine invertebrates and plants that took Leopold 1822 95 and his son Rudolf 1857 1939 Blaschka a lifetime to create This book fulfills that dream and showcases the Blaschkas unparalleled dedication to their craft Originally from Bohemia but based in Dresden the Blaschkas worked from the mid 1800s until the 1930s From clear colored and painted glass they handmade their intricate models of invertebrate animals including jellyfish sea anemones starfish and sea cucumbers as well as plants only on commission and for purposes of study mainly in Europe and North America The objects were not sold to the general public and are today held in museum collections including those of Harvard University the Corning Museum of Glass Cornell University and the Natural History Museums in London and Dublin It has been a difficult process for Mocafico to gain authorization to photograph the Blaschkas creations as most museums do not display these extremely fragile models Yet Mocařico pursued the largest Blaschka collections throughout Europe and eventually gained access to photograph their hidden treasures in his trademark style The result is similar to that of his Nature Morte series in that we constantly question what we see a photograph a painting the object itself or a product of our imagination The Blaschkas spent between 30 and 50 years of each of their lifetimes day and night creating their glass models with unbelievable commitment I was not scared to face the long term job of photographing their work and it s since become both an homage and an obsession Guido Mocařico Atmosphere 03, 2006-05 A Theology of Failure Marika Rose, 2019-05-07 Everyone agrees that theology has failed but the question of how to understand and respond to this failure is complex and contested Against both the radical orthodox attempt to return to a time before the theology s failure and the deconstructive theological attempt to open theology up to the hope of a future beyond failure Rose proposes an account of Christian identity as constituted by not despite failure Understanding failure as central to theology opens up new possibilities for confronting Christianity s violent and kyriarchal history and abandoning the attempt to discover a pure Christ outside of the grotesque materiality of the church The Christian mystical tradition begins with Dionysius the Areopagite s uncomfortable but productive conjunction of Christian theology and Neoplatonism The tensions generated by this are central to Dionysius s legacy visible not only in subsequent theological thought but also in much twentieth century continental philosophy as it seeks to disentangle itself from its Christian ancestry A Theology of Failure shows how the work of Slavoj i ek represents an attempt to repeat the original move of Christian mystical theology bringing together the themes of language desire and transcendence not with Neoplatonism but with a materialist account of the world Tracing these themes through the work of Dionysius and Derrida and through contemporary debates about the gift violence and revolution this book offers a critical theological engagement with i ek s account of social and political transformation showing how i ek s work makes possible a materialist reading of apophatic theology and Christian identity
