Headlong Into Love:

The Confessions Saint Augustine, 2008-08-14 In this new translation the brilliant and impassioned descriptions of Augustine's colourful early life are conveyed to the English reader with accuracy and art Augustine tells of his wrestlings to master his sexual drive his rare ascent from a humble Algerian farm to the edge of the corridors of high power at the imperial court of Milan and his renunciation of secular ambition and marriage as he recovered the faith that his mother had taught him It was in a Milan garden that Augustine finally achieved the act of will to Christian conversion which he compared to a lazy man in bed finally deciding it is time to get up and face the day ABOUT THE SERIES For over 100 years Oxford World's Classics has made available the widest range of literature from around the globe Each affordable volume reflects Oxford's commitment to scholarship providing the most accurate text plus a wealth of other valuable features including expert introductions by leading authorities helpful notes to clarify the text up to date bibliographies for further study and much more

The Integrated Self Brian Stock, 2017-01-24 Well before his entry into the religious life in the spring of 386 C E Augustine had embarked on a lengthy comparison between teachings on the self in the philosophical traditions of Platonism and Neoplatonism and the treatment of the topic in the Psalms the letters of St Paul and other books of the Bible Brian Stock argues that Augustine over the course of these reflections gradually abandoned a dualistic view of the self in which the mind and the body play different roles and developed the notion of an integrated self in which the mind and body function interdependently Stock identifies two intellectual techniques through which Augustine effected this change in his thought One lectio divina was an early Christian approach to reading that engaged both mind and body The other was a method of self examination that consisted of framing an interior Socratic dialogue between Reason and the individual self Stock investigates practices of writing reading and thinking across a range of premodern texts to demonstrate how Augustine builds upon the rhetorical traditions of Cicero and the inner dialogue of Plutarch to create an introspective and autobiographical version of self study that had little to no precedent The Integrated Self situates these texts in a broad historical framework while being carefully attuned to what they can tell us about the intersections of mind body and medicine in contemporary thought and practice It is a book in which Stock continues his project of reading Augustine and one in which he moves forward in new and perhaps unexpected directions
