Headmaster Of Chartres And The Origins Of Gothic Sculpture:

The "headmaster" of Chartres and the Origins of "Gothic" Sculpture C. Edson Armi, 1994 Professor Armi s study represents a dramatic reconsideration of the origins of Gothic sculpture by employing new methodology and refuting previously accepted theories Despite the aesthetic and historical significance of the Royal Portal no documentation of its design and construction exists Nevertheless over the last century a set of truths about the facade have become accepted Employing a new methodology that overcomes the lack of documents with a revised form of connoisseurship Edson Armi proposes a radically different biography of the Headmaster that has far reaching implications for the study of Gothic sculpture With a new perspective on the most important mid twelfth century portal the book concludes that the style and cultural context of le de France sculpture is less defined and more diverse than previously imagined More importantly the book argues that the forms of art as well as the design and working procedures in the Paris basin can no longer be seen as unique or separate from the practices of provincial French art in the period before 1140 Gothic Sculpture, 1140-1300 Paul Williamson, 1995-01-01 This study examines the development of Gothic sculpture throughout Europe It discusses the most famous monuments such as the cathedrals of Chartres Amiens and Reims Westminster Abbey and the Siena Duomo and less familiar buildings in France England Italy Germany Spain and Scandinavia The Grove Encyclopedia of Medieval Art and Architecture Colum Hourihane, 2012 This volume offers unparalleled coverage of all aspects of art and architecture from medieval Western Europe from the 6th century to the early 16th century Drawing upon the expansive scholarship in the celebrated Grove Dictionary of Art and adding hundreds of new entries it offers students researchers and the general public a reliable up to date and convenient resource covering this field of major importance in the development of Western history and international art and architecture Early Gothic Column-Figure Sculpture in France Janet E. Snyder, 2017-07-05 Richly illustrated Early Gothic Column Figure Sculpture in France is a comprehensive investigation of church portal sculpture installed between the 1130s and the 1170s At more than twenty great churches beginning at the Royal Abbey of Saint Denis and extending around Paris from Provins in the east south to Bourges and Dijon and west to Chartres and Angers larger than life size statues of human figures were arranged along portal jambs many carved as if wearing the dress of the highest ranks of French society This study takes a close look at twelfth century human figure sculpture describing represented clothing defining the language of textiles and dress that would have been legible in the twelfth century and investigating rationale and significance The concepts conveyed through these extraordinary visual documents and the possible motivations of the patrons of portal programs with column figures are examined through contemporaneous historical textual and visual evidence in various media Appendices include analysis of sculpture production and the transportation and fabrication in limestone from Paris Janet Snyder's new study considers how patrons used sculpture to express and shape perceived reality employing images of textiles and clothing that had political economic and social significances
