Healing In The Hills:

These Healing Hills Ann H. Gabhart, 2017-09-05 Francine Howard has her life all mapped out until the soldier she planned to marry at WWII's end writes to tell her he's in love with a woman in England. Devastated, Francine seeks a fresh start in the Appalachian Mountains, training to be a nurse-midwife for the Frontier Nursing Service. Deeply affected by the horrors he witnessed at war, Ben Locke has never thought further ahead than making it home to Kentucky. His future shrouded in as much mist as his beloved mountains, he's at a loss when it comes to envisioning what's next for his life. When Francine's and Ben's paths intersect, it's immediately clear that they are from different worlds and value different things. But love has a way of healing old wounds and revealing tantalizing new possibilities. Healing in the Hills Ruth Clemence, 1973

The Urban Connection Luuk Boelens, 2009 The urban connection develops a promising actor-relational approach to urban planning. With respect to the usual governmental planning, it is focused outside in instead of inside out. It derives its leitmotif from the actual debate about state-controlled versus neo-liberal planning and reflects on innovative post-structuralist scholars in the field of planning, economics, social geography and governance. It then takes its own position in that debate, reflecting on actor-oriented experiments in planning practices. These experiments deal with the daily planning practice with a pro-active and operational attitude, contrary to the usual retrospective case studies. Therefore, it results in concrete suggestions on how to develop a more robust planning approach in an ongoing globalising and fragmenting world.
