Educating Christian Teachers For Responsive Discipleship:

Educating Christian Teachers for Responsive Discipleship Peter P. DeBoer, 1993 Five members of the Calvin College Center for Christian Scholarship 1991-1992 team present some creative and constructive proposals for changes that could occur in the teacher education programs of hundreds of church-related colleges. Theoretically committed to a biblical vision of responsive discipleship, the authors sketch out: 1. a curricular theory that encourages many-sided encounters with created reality which stimulate varieties of student responses that should arise ultimately from a commitment of the heart; 2. a collaborative model of teacher education that urges congruent values to be held by the local school, school district, and the teacher education college; and 3. a curriculum that arises in part out of the laboratory of the classroom through the interaction of teacher and student in a school organized to develop collegiality among teachers and students where, through the use of evaluative portfolios, student teachers learn to be reflective practitioners of the art and craft of teaching. Co-published with the Institute for Christian Studies.

A Vision with a Task Gloria Goris Stronks, 1993 In this book, six educators develop a vision and recommend tasks for education that are distinctly Christian and academically sound. A Vision with a Task highlights three necessary elements which are crucial to encouraging children to become responsive disciples and seek shalom in the world.

The Outrageous Idea of Christian Scholarship George M. Marsden, 1997-03-13 While other defining elements of a scholar's identity such as race or gender are routinely taken into consideration and welcomed as providing new perspectives, the perspective of the believing Christian is dismissed as irrelevant or worse, antithetical to the scholarly enterprise. The Outrageous Idea of Christian Scholarship demonstrates what the ancient relationship of faith and intellectual scholarship mean for the academy today. George Marsden argues forcefully that mainstream American higher education needs to be more open to explicit expressions of faith and to accept what faith means in an intellectual context. Marsden argues that a religiously diverse culture will be an intellectually richer one and it is time that scholars and institutions who take the intellectual dimensions of their faith seriously become active participants in the highest level of academic discourse. Whether the reader agrees or disagrees with this conclusion, Marsden's thoughtful well-argued book is necessary reading for all sides of the debate on religion's role in education and culture. Routledge Library Editions: Higher Education

Various, 2021-03-29 The volumes in this set, originally published between 1964 and 2002, draw together research by leading academics in the area of higher education and provide a rigorous examination of related key issues. The volume examines the concepts of learning, teaching, student experience, and administration in relation to the higher education through the areas of business, sociology, education reforms, government educational policy, business, and religion, whilst also exploring the general principles and practices of higher education in various countries. This set will be of particular interest to students and practitioners of education, politics, and sociology.

Leadership in Theological Education, Volume 2 Fritz Deininger, Orbelina Eguizabal, 2017-11-14 The ICETE Programme for Academic Leadership IPAL was officially established in 2010 and arose out of the need to provide training to theological institutions in different regions of the world IPAL provides a three year cycle of seminars for the professional development of evangelical academic leaders and administrators to help institutions in their pursuit of quality and excellence in theological education This publication is the second of three volumes intended to accompany and support the IPAL seminars as well as independently providing wider access to the principles required by academic leaders for institutional and curriculum development Each chapter shares and illustrates the expertise and understanding the contributors have of education and curriculum design in the field of evangelical academic institutions With an intentional awareness of a wide range of non Western contexts this volume is a much needed guide for course administrators around the world Religious Higher Education in the United States Thomas C. Hunt, James C. Carper, 1996 According to the authors higher education today suffers from a lack of a clearly articulated purpose a deficiency particularly challenging to religiously affiliated institutions This volume attempts to address the problems currently facing denomination affiliated institutions of higher education beginning with an introduction to government aid and the regulation of religious colleges and universities in the US The greater part of the volume consists of 24 chapters each of which begins with a historical essay followed by annotated bibliographical entries covering primary and secondary sources dating back to 1986 on various denomination connected institutions There are roughly 600 bibliographic entries an epilogue discussing critical issues and subject and author indexes Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR

Matty: An American Hero Ray Robinson, 1994-12-08 When all time pitching great Christy Mathewson died of tuberculosis in 1925 at the age of 45 it touched off a wave of national mourning that remains without precedent for an American athlete The World Series was underway and the game the day after Mathewson s death took on the trappings of a state funeral officials slowly lowered the flag to half mast each ballplayer wore a black armband and fans joined together in a chorus of Nearer My God to Thee The pitcher known to one and all as Matty or Big Six was as beloved for the strength of character he brought to the national pastime as for his stunning 373 career victories In Matty Ray Robinson tells the story of a man who became America s first authentic sports hero Until Mathewson Robinson reveals Americans loved baseball but looked down on ballplayers and other athletes as hard drinking skirt chasing ne er do wells Mathewson changed this attitude showing an eager public that a real life role model could be found in the athletic arena Drawing on rare interviews press clips and long overlooked eyewitness accounts Matty brings baseball s golden age to life offering fascinating insight into the making of an early twentieth century American hero

Education for Hope John E Hull, 2023-01-28 This book traces the little known history of an alternative school system erected in Canada by post WWII Dutch Neo Calvinist immigrants In less than four decades this community established a kindergarten to university education system that extended from Ottawa Ontario to Victoria BC This remarkable tradition of education imagines the school as a dissident and transformational social institution While this book offers the narrative of faith based tradition of education the author makes a strong case that educators from diverse ideological backgrounds can learn important lessons from it about the implementation of an alternative educational vision teacher led curriculum reform and a self formative pedagogy To supplement this narrative the author also provides a separate set of theoretical discussions on key issues in school reform as well as his memoir as an educator and curriculum designer within this tradition
