acceptable peace education ultimately undermine the very goals of educational peacebuilding Kester contends that theoretical and pedagogical training must develop beyond the dominant psycho social rational and state centric assumptions that permeate the field today if higher education is to better contribute to personal and societal peacebuilding Drawing from the fields of educational philosophy and sociology he argues for new concepts of poststructural violence and second order reflexivity that can assist scholars in reducing conflict and building peace in lasting ways He complements his fieldwork findings with personal reflections throughout the book to reimagine the transformative possibilities of peacebuilding education for the 21st century International Handbook on Globalisation, Education and Policy Research Joseph
