Education For Motherhood Advice For Mothers In Twentieth Century Canada:

Education for Motherhood Katherine Arnup, 1994 An account of education for motherhood that begins in the first decades of the 20th century when the high mortality rate among infants small children and women in childbirth prompted a massive Canadian government campaign to educate women in the complex tasks of motherhood Focusing on the period from 1900 to 1960 Arnup documents the barrage of advice from the experts and assesses its changing messages and its impact on women s daily lives Paper edition unseen 18 95 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Social Policy and Practice in Canada Alvin Finkel, 2012-05-09 Social Policy and Practice in Canada A History traces the history of social policy in Canada from the period of First Nations control to the present day exploring the various ways in which residents of the area known today as Canada have organized themselves to deal with or to ignore the needs of the ill the poor the elderly and the young This book is the first synthesis on social policy in Canada to provide a critical perspective on the evolution of social policy in the country While earlier work has treated each new social program as a major advance and reacted with shock to neoliberalism s attack on social programs Alvin Finkel demonstrates that right wing and left wing forces have always battled to shape social policy in Canada He argues that the notion of a welfare state consensus in the period after 1945 is misleading and that the social programs developed before the neoliberal counteroffensive were far less radical than they are sometimes depicted Social Policy and Practice in Canada A History begins by exploring the non state mechanisms employed by First Nations to insure the well being of their members It then deals with the role of the Church in New France and of voluntary organizations in British North America in helping the unfortunate After examining why voluntary organizations gradually gave way to state controlled programs the book assesses the evolution of social policy in Canada in a variety of areas including health care treatment of the elderly child care housing and poverty

Women's Organizing and Public Policy in Canada and Sweden Linda Briskin, Mona Eliasson, 1999-10-25 Women s Organizing and Public Policy in Canada and Sweden highlights the impact of women s organizing on the framing and implementing of public policy the reconstituting of discourse and the practices of unions political parties and the state It examines the strategies women have used to organize themselves as a vocal and politicized constituency In so doing it stretches definitions of organizing and of political practice politicizes the social and the private and expands conceptions of agency Comparing Sweden and Canada allows the mechanisms at work in each society to emerge more clearly challenging what is often taken for granted Contributors include Christina Bergqvist Uppsala Sweden Linda Briskin Barbara Cameron York Canada Marianne Carlsson Uppsala Sweden Rebecca Priegert Coulter University of Western Ontario Canada Mona Eliasson Georgina Feldberg York Canada Sue Findlay private scholar Canada Lena Gon s National Institute for Working Life Sweden Wuokko Knocke National Institute for Working Life Sweden Catharina Landstr m Linkoping Sweden Colleen Lundy Carleton Canada Rianne Mahon Carleton Canada Chantal Maill Concordia Canada Roxana Ng Ontario Institute for Studies in Education Canada Becki Ross University

Framing Our Past Lorna R McLean, Kate O'Rourke, Sharon Anne Cook, 2001-05-14 With introductory essays by historians Framing Our Past emphasizes the lived experiences of women their participation in many areas of social life such as social rituals with other women organized sporting clubs philanthropic spiritual and aesthetic activities study and reading groups The authors then focus on women s roles as nurturers and keepers of the hearth B their experiences with family management child care and health concerns They consider women s varied contributions within formal and informal educational systems as well as their instrumental political role in consumer activism social work peace movements and royal commissions Canadian women s shaping of health care and science through nursing physiotherapy and research are discussed as is women s work from domestic labour to dressmaking to broadcasting to banking Using diary accounts oral history letters organizational records paintings quilts dressmaking patterns milliners records posters Framing our Past offers a unique opportunity to share what is rarely if ever seen offering insights into the preservation and interpretation of historical sources Health and Sustainability in the Canadian Food System Rod MacRae, Elisabeth Abergel, 2012-07-18

Civil society organizations are among the most vociferous critics of the modern food system Yet even after decades of campaigns governments have failed to address health and sustainability issues in a systematic way New approaches are in order and this volume showcases the research of experts from various disciplines who argue that solutions lie not just in lobbying elected officials but rather in initiatives at the subparliamentary level Case studies on a range of topics from breastfeeding and sustainable pest management promotion to programs such as Canada s Action Plan on Food Security tell a story of misguided campaigns and missed opportunities Real change this inspiring volume suggests is possible It will come when advocacy groups develop innovative strategies of influencing decision makers more resistant to public pressure business lobbies well connected to government agencies middle managers and ministries unused to collaborating across departmental mandates Mobilizing Mercy Sarah Glassford, 2016-11-01 For more than a century the Canadian Red Cross Society has provided help and comfort to vulnerable people at home and abroad In the first detailed national history of the organization Sarah Glassford reveals how the European born Red Cross movement came to Canada and took root and why it flourished From its origins in battlefield medicine to the creation of Canada s first nationwide free blood transfusion service during the Cold War Mobilizing Mercy charts crucial organizational changes the influence of key leaders and the impact of social cultural political economic and international trends over time Glassford shows that the key to the Red Cross s longevity lies in its ability to reinvent itself by tapping into the concerns and ambitions of diverse groups including militia doctors government officials middle class women and schoolchildren Through periods of war and peace the Canadian Red Cross pioneered new services and filled gaps in government aid to become a ubiquitous agency on the wartime home front a major

domestic public health organization and a respected provider of international humanitarian aid Opening a window onto the shifting relationship between voluntary organizations and the state Mobilizing Mercy is a compelling portrait of a major humanitarian organization its people and its ever evolving place in Canadian society Becoming a mother Carla Pascoe Leahy,2023-04-04 Becoming a mother charts the diverse and complex history of Australian mothering for the first time exposing the ways it has been both connected to and distinct from parallel developments in other industrialised societies In many respects the historical context in which Australian women come to motherhood has changed dramatically since 1945 And yet examination of the memories of multiple maternal generations reveals surprising continuities in the emotions and experiences of first time motherhood Drawing upon interdisciplinary insights from anthropology history psychology and sociology Carla Pascoe Leahy unpacks this multifaceted rite of passage through more than 60 oral history interviews demonstrating how maternal memories continue to influence motherhood today Despite radical shifts in understandings of gender care and subjectivity becoming a mother remains one of the most personally and culturally significant moments in a woman s life Contesting Bodies and Nation in Canadian History Patrizia Gentile,Jane Nicholas,2013-12-06 From fur coats to nude paintings and from sports to beauty contests the body has been central to the literal and figurative fashioning of ourselves as individuals and as a nation In this first collection on the history of the body in Canada an interdisciplinary group of scholars explores the multiple ways the body has served as a site of contestation in Canadian history in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Showcasing a variety of methodological approaches Contesting Bodies and Nation in Canadian History includes essays on many themes that engage with the larger historical relationship between the body and nation medicine and health fashion and consumer culture citizenship and work and more The contributors reflect on the intersections of bodies with the concept of nationhood as well as how understandings of the body are historically contingent The volume is capped off with a critical introductory chapter by the editors on the history of bodies and the development of the body as a category of analysis The Dominion of Youth Cynthia Comacchio,2008-10-08 Adolescence like childhood is more than a biologically defined life stage it is also a sociohistorical construction The meaning and experience of adolescence are reformulated according to societal needs evolving scientific precepts and national aspirations relative to historic conditions Although adolescence was by no means a discovery of the early twentieth century it did assume an identifiably modern form during the years between the Great War and 1950 The Dominion of Youth Adolescence and the Making of Modern Canada 1920 to 1950 captures what it meant for young Canadians to inhabit this liminal stage of life within the context of a young nation caught up in the self formation and historic transformation that would make modern Canada Because the young at this time were seen paradoxically as both the hope of the nation and the source of its possible degeneration new policies and institutions were developed to deal with the problem of youth This history considers how young Canadians made the transition to adulthood during a period that was developmental both for youth and for a nation also working toward individuation During the years considered here those who occupied this dominion of youth would see their experiences more clearly demarcated by generation and culture than ever before With this book Cynthia Comacchio offers the first detailed study of adolescence in early twentieth century Canada and demonstrates how young Canadians of the period became the nation's first modern teenagers Edible Histories, Cultural Politics Franca Iacovetta, Valerie J. Korinek, Marlene Epp, 2012-11-07 Just as the Canada's rich past resists any singular narrative there is no such thing as a singular Canadian food tradition This new book explores Canada's diverse food cultures and the varied relationships that Canadians have had historically with food practices in the context of community region nation and beyond Based on findings from menus cookbooks government documents advertisements media sources oral histories memoirs and archival collections Edible Histories offers a veritable feast of original research on Canada's food history and its relationship to culture and politics This exciting collection explores a wide variety of topics including urban restaurant culture ethnic cuisines and the controversial history of margarine in Canada It also covers a broad time span from early contact between European settlers and First Nations through the end of the twentieth century Edible Histories intertwines information of Canada's foodways the practices and traditions associated with food and food preparation and stories of immigration politics gender economics science medicine and religion Sophisticated culturally sensitive and accessible Edible Histories will appeal to students historians and foodies alike Resources in Education, 1995 Children, Teachers and Schools in the History of British Columbia Jean Barman, Mona Gleason, 2003 This new edition explores the myriad ways that education broadly defined molds each of us in profound and enduring ways Laid against the supporting scaffolding of modern critical theory the chapters offer cutting edge perspectives of going to school in British Columbia How has education been tailored by race class gender How do representations of schools and schooling change over time and whose interests are served What echoes of current tensions can we hear in the past The book offers a glimpse of the deep contradictions inherent in an experience that we all share The Guardianship of Best Interests Renée Nicole Lafferty, 2013 A history of charitable children's homes and emergent state centred child welfare policy in Nova Scotia Secondary Sources in the History of Canadian Medicine Charles G. Roland, Jacques Bernier, 2010-11-22 Volume Two of this retrospective bibliography is both a continuation and an expansion of Volume One 1984 It contains references to Canadian medical historical literature published between 1984 and 1998 and also includes much additional material published prior to 1984 Finally it substantially enlarges the content of French language material Every effort has been made to be as inclusive as possible of articles theses book chapters and books both in English and in French relating to the history of medicine No single electronic source can replace this bibliography The contents are divided into three sections The first is a listing of material expressly biographical Section two lists material under a wide variety of subject headings related to medicine and the third is a complete listing of the authors who have contributed these articles Simply organized and easy to use this bibliography will be of value to historians archivists librarians and anyone interested in the history of medicine Legal Inversions Didi Herman,2011 An exploration of the contested field of gay and lesbian sexuality and the law Boys in the Pits Robert Gordon McIntosh,2000 Beginning early in the nineteenth century thousands of Canadian boys some as young as eight laboured underground driving pit ponies along narrow passageways manipulating ventilation doors and helping miners cut and load coal at the coalface to produce the energy that fuelled Canada's industrial revolution Boys died in the mines in explosions and accidents but they also organised strikes for better working conditions but were instead expelled from the mines and lost their jobs Boys in the Pits shows the rapid maturity of the boys and their role in resisting exploitation In what will certainly be a controversial interpretation of child labour Robert McIntosh recasts wage earning children as more than victims showing that they were individuals who responded intelligently and resourcefully to their circumstances Boys in the Pits is particularly timely as despite the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child accepted by the General assembly in 1989 child labour still occurs throughout the world and continues to generate controversy McIntosh provides an important new perspective from which to consider these debates reorienting our approach to child labour explaining rather than condemning the practice Within the broader social context of the period where the place of children was being redefined as and limited to the home school and playground he examines the role of changing technologies alternative sources of unskilled labour new divisions of labour changes in the family economy and legislation to explore the changing extent of child labour in the mines Robert McIntosh is employed at the National Archives of Canada The Nurture of Nature Sharon Wall,2010-01-01 Thousands of children attended summer camps in twentieth century Ontario Did parents simply want a break or were broader developments at play The Nurture of Nature explores the history of summer camps and sheds light on a wider phenomenon the divided consciousness that informs modern assumptions about nature technology and identity Wall examines how two competing tendencies antimodern nostalgia and modern sensibilities about the landscape child rearing and identity played out in the camp's interaction with nature its class and gendered dimensions its engagement with emerging ideologies of childhood and in the politics of race inherent in its Indian programming The Nurture of Nature offers a fascinating discussion of the summer camp's contribution to modern social life that will appeal to students and practitioners of the history of childhood the natural environment and recreation or anyone who has been packed off to camp and wants to explore why

Getting by in Hard Times David Livingstone,Meg Luxton,June Shirley Corman,2001-01-01 Describes the experiences of daily life for predominantly white working class women and men during the period of economic restructuring begun in the 1980s Perfect Motherhood Rima Apple,2006-05-23 Parenting today is virtually synonymous with worry We want to ensure that our children are healthy that they get a good education and that they grow up to be able to cope with the challenges of modern life In our anxiety we are keenly aware of our inability to know what is best for our children When should we toilet train What is the best way to encourage a fussy child to eat How should we protect our children from disease and injury Before the nineteenth century maternal instinct a mother's natural know how was considered the only tool necessary for effective childrearing Over the past two hundred years however science has entered the realm of motherhood in increasingly significant ways In Perfect Motherhood Rima D Apple shows how the growing belief that mothers need to be savvy about the latest scientific directives has shifted the role of expert away from the mother and toward the professional establishment Apple however argues that most women today are finding ways to negotiate among the abundance of scientific recommendations their own knowledge and the reality of their daily lives
