Educationally Speaking:

Making Sense of Education Gert Biesta, 2012-06-05 This volume gives educational theorists the chance to let rip and say what they really want to say In doing so it sends a blast of fresh air through the dusty halls of academe The vast majority of the literature in education theory and philosophy follows the conventions of academic writing and rightly so Yet its formal abstract and objective style which focuses on the careful presentation of theoretical and philosophical arguments doesn't always give us insights into what motivates and drives the authors while for academic neophytes it can be dense and arcane Here those same theorists and philosophers have been given the chance to expound at length on the topics that most exercise them What concerns them what gets them up in the morning and what really matters most to them Readers will discover what happens when these thinkers are explicitly invited to go beyond academic conventions and experiment with form style and content Featuring collected essays from leading educationalists from Norway Sweden Denmark the USA Canada Israel Germany Belgium and the UK these essays provide vital insights into their work as well as being a compelling introduction to contemporary attempts to make sense of education through theory and philosophy All these authors have made key contributions to the field and their unique manifestos make a fascinating read for any student or practitioner in education

Animals in Literary Education John Drew, 2025-09-24 This book examines the complicated place of animals in literary analysis and education and shows how an ethically engaged approach to animals representation could be pursued to challenge anthropocentrism and cultivate multispecies empathy Other species are represented in the literary education canon including farmed animals Yet the animals are typically anthropomorphized to guide students toward humanist readings and away from consideration of animals experiences or subjectivities This reproduces the idea that animals are mere objects meant to be exploited for human purposes even metaphorical and educational ones John Drew develops the term anthropo allegory to capture and critique the process through which students are taught to read animal literary representations exclusively as symbolic analogues for humans and human themes The concept serves as an analytical lens for critically interrogating significant texts taught across educational levels and exposing the deeply engrained educational anthropocentrism that silences animal issues even when animals are represented Crucially Drew identifies texts and pedagogical strategies that can help cultivate a literary educational animal ethic that simultaneously encourages analytical rigour and multispecies concern Educational Foundations ,1906
