Hollywood's Italian American Filmmakers Jonathan J. Cavallero, 2011-05-01 Hollywood's Italian American Filmmakers explores the different ways in which Italian American directors from the 1920s to the present have responded to their ethnicity While some directors have used film to declare their ethnic roots and create an Italian American imagined community others have ignored or even denied their background Jonathan J. Cavallero examines the films of Frank Capra Martin Scorsese Nancy Savoca Francis Ford Coppola and Quentin Tarantino with a focus on what the films reveal about each director's view on Italian American identities Whereas Capra's films highlight similarities between immigrant characters and WASP Americans Scorsese accepts his ethnic heritage but also sees it as confining Similarly many of Coppola's films provide a nostalgic treatment of Italian American identity but with little criticism of the culture's more negative aspects And while Savoca's movies reveal her artful ability to recognize how ethnic gender and class identities overlap Tarantino's films exhibit a playfully postmodern engagement with Italian American ethnicity Cavallero's exploration of the films of Capra Scorsese Savoca Coppola and Tarantino demonstrates how immigrant Italians fought prejudice how later generations positioned themselves in relation to their predecessors and how the American cinema usually seen as a cultural institution that works to assimilate has also served as a forum where assimilation was resisted

Munby,2011-06-15 What accounts for the persistence of the figure of the black criminal in popular culture created by African Americans Unearthing the overlooked history of art that has often seemed at odds with the politics of civil rights and racial advancement Under a Bad Sign explores the rationale behind this tradition of criminal self representation from the Harlem Renaissance to contemporary gangsta culture In this lively exploration Jonathan Munby takes a uniquely broad view laying bare the way the criminal appears within and moves among literary musical and visual arts Munby traces the legacy of badness in Rudolph Fisher and Chester Himes s detective fiction and in Claude McKay Julian Mayfield and Donald Goines s urban experience writing Ranging from Peetie Wheatstraw s gangster blues to gangsta rap he also examines criminals in popular songs Turning to the screen the underworld films of Oscar Micheaux and Ralph Cooper the 1970s blaxploitation cycle and the 1990s hood movie come under his microscope as well Ultimately Munby concludes that this tradition has been a misunderstood aspect of African American civic life and that rather than undermining black culture it forms a rich and enduring response to being outcast in America Collier's ,1926 The Encyclopedia of Musicians and Bands on Film
