Education Across Cultures:

Education Across Cultures Miles V. Zintz, 1963 Teaching Across Cultures James E. Plueddemann, 2018-11-27 In our globalized world educators often struggle to adapt to the contexts of diverse learners In this practical resource educator and missiologist James Plueddemann offers field tested insights for teaching across cultural differences He unpacks how different cultural dynamics may inhibit learning and offers a framework for integrating conceptual ideas into practical experience

Teaching and Learning across Cultures Craig Ott, 2021-06-15 Representing the fruit of a lifetime of reflection and practice this comprehensive resource helps teachers understand the way people in different cultures learn so they can adapt their teaching for maximum effectiveness Senior missiologist and educator Craig Ott draws on extensive research and cross cultural experience from around the world This book introduces students to current theories and best practices for teaching and learning across cultures Case studies illustrations diagrams and sidebars help the theories of the book come to life

Bridging Cultures Between Home and School Elise Trumbull, Carrie Rothstein-Fisch, Patricia M. Greenfield, Blanca Quiroz, 2001-04 Introduces prospective in service teachers to an anthropological framework to research practice base that will help them be more successful in teaching students from various immigrant cultures Focuses on home school communication parent involvement

Learning and Teaching Across Cultures in Higher Education D. Palfreyman, D. McBride, 2007-10-17 Learning and Teaching Across Cultures in Higher Education contains theoretical rationale resources and examples to help readers understand and deal with situations involving contact between learners or educators from different cultural backgrounds as well as giving insights into the new global context of higher education Teaching across Cultures Perry Shaw, César Lopes, Joanna Feliciano-Soberano, Bob Heaton, 2021-11-05 The growth of the church around the world has led to an increased need for qualified theological educators both locally and from the global community Yet teaching cross culturally is fraught with overlooked challenges and lack of cultural sensitivity can undermine educators credibility distort their message and threaten the fruit of their ministry Teaching across Cultures is a deeply practical guidebook for teaching theology beyond one's own cultural context The first section of the book provides a rich theoretical framework for cross cultural engagement exploring the intersections of theology anthropology and pedagogy It is followed by over thirty country specific reflections as local contributors provide practical guidelines for living teaching and ministering within their contexts The only resource of its kind this book is straightforward and easy to use while providing a powerful reminder that transformative teaching has humility and careful listening at its core It is a must read for anyone embarking on the joyful journey of cross cultural ministry Web-Based Teaching and Learning across Culture and Age Fengfeng Ke, Alicia Fedelina Chávez, 2013-05-24 With limited empirical research available on online teaching across cultures especially with Native and Hispanic American students this book will present the findings of a two year Spencer funded study in creating an inclusive i.e. multicultural and intergenerational instructional design model for online learning The book is expected to provide the readers a field guide of teaching approach comprising pedagogical technical relational and other suggestions for teaching for inclusive e learning with a foundation in the research on how students from different cultures and generation groups learn online This two year multi course site study as a first effort to examine online college teaching and learning effective across culture and age contributed a list of important findings on the following questions To what extent are online learning and interaction experiences and performances consistent across varied ethnic cultural and age groups and in what ways do they vary What online instructional contexts do students and faculty especially non traditional and minority students identify as supporting learning and student success What are the relationships between online instructional contexts online learning performance and learning success of students with diverse ethnicity culture and age background By consolidating the findings for the aforementioned research questions the researchers of this study have developed a data driven online instructional design model that can work as a field guide on cross cultural and intergenerational teaching and learning for online education practitioners Teaching across Cultures Chinwe H. Ikpeze, 2015-04-27 Teaching across Cultures Building Pedagogical Relationships in Diverse Contexts captures the tensions complexities as well as the transformational potentials of teaching across multiple cultural contexts The book evolved from cumulative self studies that examined one teacher educator s teaching practice the cultural impact on this practice and how she facilitated transformative teaching and learning While every act of teaching occurs across cultures such as institutional culture invisible cultures classroom cultures among others educators who teach as cultural outsiders have to navigate the tensions complexities and contradictory realities of cross cultural teaching The tensions can be reduced or managed through responsive pedagogy relationship building and teaching in the third space These transformational approaches not only help to identify and close the perpetual gaps in teaching and learning but also position effective teaching within a pedagogical common ground that values student voices facilitates pedagogical flexibility and uses diversity as a teaching tool In a world of ubiquitous and interactive learning environments both the physical and virtual spaces play a vital role in teaching and teacher student relationships The book points to the necessity of teacher educators learning through diverse professional networks but more importantly through self study It is only through this introspective examination of one s teaching and students learning as well as taking an ontological attitude to teaching that educators can achieve success in diverse contexts
